BATTLE NOW IN "CRITICAL STAGE"

Axis Forces Face Trap in Tunisia

War News Summary

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1

North Africa: The Allied armies began closing in for the kill on the Axis forces in the southern shores of the Mediterranean today and the close of the close of the final chapter of the war appeared near.

Tanked British and United States troops were reported locked in battle with the Germans in Tunisia today, striking to cut the last highway link between Tripoli and Tunis. Half a dozen British and American forces have descended their wedge toward the capital. The United States and French troops have gained ground in a thrust to block the road to Tripoli.

The Allies are probably within three miles of Tunis, driving from the rail junction town of Djeidet, 12 miles northwest of Tunis. The speed of the quickening activity was reported on the east flank of the giant Atlantic wall, where the giant casting Britain's victorious 8th army was preparing for a final assault on New Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in Libya.

Russia: The dangerous Russian threat to the backdoor of the whole Nazi empire, from Leningrad-Odessa north-south rail and road system, is not only despising the Baltic Valley but widening northward.

With Red fenders stabilizing the Joliette bridge, the Nazis veered into the Luki toward Nev, it seems probable that a synchronized Russian drive will now be the shortest way to Leningrad as well as the Nevel-Belitsk door to Smolensk and Moscow. And if it has not already started.

With the Leningrad-Odessa railroad now closed, the Nazis ended the Nazi east front in the centre established last winter after they had been virtually cut in two. Indications are the Russian advance west of Vitebsk is now less than 75 miles from the Nazi frontier. The danger to that main north-south railway system that feeds not only Russia but much of the north but also the south of the German front in Russia is very real.

South Europe: Indicating that the next chapter of the new phase of war will be fought beginning in South Europe, another smashing air attack on Italy occurred yesterday.

Asia: The Japanese are only miles of smoking ruins this morning, following the second great British raid on Tokyo. Yesterday's attack was smaller than Saturday's, but the R.A.F. bombers carried their four-ton super bombs and used them to the best effect.

Pacific Theatre: The Japanese naval and air assault on the German region in New Guinea have been split by combatant Australian and American forces.

Late reports — that heavy fighting has broken out on the left bank of the Salween River areas where Allied forces drove a wedge to the sea between Burma and Georgia.

In the Solomons Allied flyers are busy striking at shipping and nearby Japanese bases, but the last contact with the third week on Guadalcanal.

Red Army In Smash At Rzhev

By ROBERT DAWSON

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(BUP)—Russian forces have broken through the outer German defense line at Rzhev, a major fortress city 135 miles west of Moscow, and fighting is proceeding in the streets with bayonet and hand grenade. Russian advances received today.

There were indications here that there was going to be a general Russian drive which would soon recapture the entire city, but the most heavily defended area is still held by the Germans.

Russian troops had held a foothold in the suburbs for six months, but the Germans had thermalized the area and had been thrown into action to press into the city and attempt to break through by street fire.

The Allied high command reported that the air force actively supported infantry units which were attempting to hold off the Germans, separating Japanese forces in Gona, and in Buna, to the east of the east.

Axes Seven Zeros

A flight of 12 Allied fighters engaged a similar number of Japanese Zero fighters and shot down seven of the latter, losing only one of their own.

The Japanese reported the two Allied pilots were saved. Every aerial foray was small and ineffective.

Several hundred of Lt. General Tatsuo Horii's fighting men were besieged in the village of Gona, a coastal village which Australia once penetrated a greater distance.

The Japanese reported that the New Jersey will have a greater displacement than her sister ship, the Iowa, and will be 27,000 tons.

The two battleships originally were announced as 45,000-tonners, but their design has been changed.

Alberta Airmen Win Commissions For Proficiency

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—(CP)—R.C.A.F. headquarters announced today that 61 pilots, all sergeants, have been granted temporary pilot officers for proficiency in training.

In the years between the two great wars, the patients, of course, were not given the title of "proficiency" but the title of "proficiency in flying."

The list included the following Alberta: Alexander Hosmer, Robert and Paris, Basile, Frederick Emil Verhasselt, James Earl Sams, Milroy Maxwell William, Earl, Edward James, and Barbara Gill, Edmonton.

MANY PATIENTS

This year, there are in the Military Wing of the University hospital, 100 patient aviators, though there have been for many years.

Research may show that the total number of patients will be 100.

This is due to the ever-increasing toll being taken of service men in the present struggle.

Each year, the Bulletin opens its columns to record the names of patients who have recovered from their injuries and entered the service again.

For the past few years, the patients have been given the title of "proficiency" and the title of "proficiency in flying."

Controller Asks Taxi Firms To Eliminate Luxury Trips As Gas Supply Is Rationed

Complete elimination of the use of taxicabs to and from places of entertainment is urged on taxi company proprietors in an order limiting each taxi to 700 gallons of gasoline for a five-month period, issued by Transit Controller George S. Gray. The ration order covers the period from November, 1942, to March, 1943, and was agreed upon following conferences by the transit controller, the taxi controller, and the oil controller.

The firm letter to municipal authorities and taxi companies reads:

"Because of the critical nature of the gasoline and rubber shortage, it is going to be sufficient to keep taxicabs in operation on the present scale. Therefore the use of taxicabs for luxury trips will be discontinued."

It is the basic idea of the controller that the taxicab operators have been granted a reasonable amount of gasoline, and that it is feared that in the present emergency, much of their performance can be considered as luxury.

Sweeping Post-War Plan Of Social Security for All Proposed in Great Britain

sents a bold jump of 60 per cent from the total money involved in present insurance programs which cover a smaller field than indicated by the report.

In 1945, Beveridge said, the program would collect and disburse $17,280,000,000, or about 7 per cent of the 1945 national income.

The proportion of the national income involved in social insurance that would be raised from 7 per cent to 11 per cent and all types of services would be re-calculated on an actuarial and scientific basis rather than on political or quasi-political grounds. Beveridge thus produced a scheme of staggering dimensions, observers pointed out.

For example, the report emphasized, under the present unemployment insurance program as instituted by the Baldwin, Chamberlain and Churchill governments, an unemployed married man with two children receives 35 shillings ($7.60) a week for 26 weeks after which his insurance stops and his family are turned over to the public assistance board.

Under the Beveridge proposals, the same man would receive 56 shillings ($11.20) weekly without any time limitations and without cross-examination regarding his savings or relatives who might aid in his family's support.

The same man, as a contributor to Britain's current health insurance program would receive $3.60 weekly for 13 weeks after which the payment would be reduced to about $1.50 a week.

By The Canadian Press

The Beveridge plan would double old age pensions from the present average of about $8 a week for a man and wife; give working women up to $10 upon marrying to compensate for a changed benefit status and extend the present limited medical services under the workers' compulsory health insurance to comprehensive medical care for every member of the family.

The report now goes to parliament for action which Sir William urged be started immediately so the program could be instituted right after the war.

He asserted that Britain's provision for the needy in industrial communities already is "on a scale unsurpassed anywhere" except on points of medical service and workers' compensation.

"Want Can Be Abolished"

"Want could have been abolished in Britain just before the present war," he said.

"It can be abolished after the war . . . The proposals cover the ground which must be covered one way or another in translating the words of the Atlantic charter into deeds."

"The abolition of want requires better distribution of wealth"—not among capital, labor and management, but among the workers themselves "as between times of earning and not earning and times of heavy family responsibilities and times of light or no family responsibilities."

The report added: "Unemployment and disability are already being paid for unconsciously. It is no addition to the burden on the community to provide for them consciously."

The report recommends that the government take over private work clubs, building insurance companies, when insurance costs are considered unduly high.

PREMIUM ON MARRIAGE

It pointed that workers' compensation is to be based on a general fund to which all employees and all workers contribute.

ALL LOOK TO FUTURE

"Men and women in the forces and in all walks of life are in a position of anxiety and uncertainty as to what the future holds in store."

"We cannot tolerate the prospect of a leaderless world at the end of the war, a world without definite plans for its future," Greenwood said. It would be "the basest treachery" to leave the world to the Germans.

"Our task is to reconstruct our society on a basis of legitimate hopes and might end in bitter disillusionment which might easily find ugly means of expression."

of the draftees." The seat previously was held by Lt.-Col. W. H. G. Moore, member of the House of Commons who was appointed to the senate in October.

URGES FUNERAL GRANT

The report urged a funeral grant designed to replace voluntary contributions coming virtually everywhere in Britain to help the families of those killed at an excessive expense, and increased allowances for maternity to the fallen British birth rate which Sir William reported is the lowest in the world.

British law which the industrial departments and branches of their women, was appointed to the Liberal Progressive, 1941 when he was still in the cabinet to devise a plan for integrating the new laws according to new needs which have been sweeping across the country.

Ally to say when the definitive attacks had started.

In both Tunis and Bizerte areas, British tanks had been pinned inside small defense perimeters, while gave them no opportunity to maneuver on the road between Tunis and Libya. Disputes indicated the French forces were unable to meet the British in battle with the bayonet and avenge a fair fight. Muslim troops had a hard time to protect France two years ago.

GET IMPORTANT AIRPORT

A dispute from British War correspondent at Allied headquarters that British paratroopers had been captured in the Tunis area Sunday. The field apparently had not been occupied by British paratroopers but was taken so that they could defend it.

All reported that the British and Americans of the first army were advancing through thickly wooded areas, where there was no airplane attack. The Germans, he reported, had put up a well planned defense, mainly retreating, air raid, mines and roads, and defended them with mobile tanks and anti-aircraft guns and medium tanks into action when possible.

This chart reveals the distribution over the prairie provinces of wheat crops which contained bad mixtures, all as shown by some 12,000 samples taken and analyzed by the "Crop Testing Plan" this summer. The map should indicate that much work remains to be done in the field, particularly charged with the good work of improving the prairie wheat crop. It has been said time and time again that there is no simple action any farmer can take that will so increase his income as the elimination of mixtures of poor quality grain from his crop. This can easily and inexpensively be done by the use each year of a few certified seed, preferably sealed in the sack. The wheat crops containing bad mixtures this year

SPORT SHOW

JUDGING by the numbers answering the first practice calls of the Canadian and Edmonton Athletic Clubs at 119th street rink on Monday night, there certainly is no immediate danger of a shortage of junior hockey talent here.

Leroy Goldsmith was given credit for 33 entries, while his partner, Chet, had 23 entries. The two coaches, who are in their first year as coach for the E.A.C. squad and Bob Gillies, former manager of the Canadians, had almost as many to put through their pipes during the 8:30 to 10 p.m. period.

And George Crockett, who is in charge of the rink this season, had a fine sheet of ice all ready for the boys. The new junior hockey season is off to a decided improvement and although it has not made any noticeable difference in the number of players, nevertheless it seems to have added something which makes a fellow feel good.

Anyway 119th Street rink is the best available here just now and that's that.

E.A.C. SQUAD OUT

SIXteen last year's E.A.C. Juniors were on hand last night. Jack and Bill Ingram, Hassie Young, Alan Shantz, Steve Egan and Fred McCreadie, along with the rest of the Canadians, had neither Harry Allen, top scorer in the League here last season nor Fred Gosselin, who was second on the job for the 8:30 practice Wednesday. There were, however, several other players present.

As Superintendent and Coach, two of the men remaining in the E.A.C. turned out, and both later went back on the part of the Canadians for an extra whiz. Bill Jenkins, a former professional baseball player, Bill Jenkins, of Lloydminster, Charlie Cairns, Kitchener, Frank Ball of last year's Maple Leaf team, and Frank Popovich of Cadomin.

Others who have been signed are Jack Tennant, formerly of Lethbridge and who it will be remembered pitched for Aircraft Industries, and the newest Canadian baseball player, Bill Jenkins, of Lloydminster. Charlie Cairns, Kitchener, Frank Ball of last year's Maple Leaf team, and Frank Popovich of Cadomin.

In addition there are several of last year's juveniles who are trying to make a go of it, and some are getting too hard to keep from the team, although most of them are still eligible for juvenile status.

John Aitken, formerly of Calgarian, Frank Weller, who was named coach of the juveniles and B. Dahl manager. They will work out Wednesday night at 4.

Any new comers wishing to try out for the above divisions will be welcomed.

Maple Leafs to Stage Practices

The Maple Leaf midget and juvenile teams will stage practices at 96 street rink Wednesday night with the midgets taking the ice at 8 p.m. and the juveniles from 8 to 10.

One Team Still Needed to Complete List Bowl Lineups

Sport Shorts From Britain

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—(AP)—The lineup of opponents for the five "bowl" football games to be played in the United States on New Year's Day was completed Monday with the exception of the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., which must await the crowning of a Pacific coast champion to determine the host team.

The Southeastern Conference will have a share of the post-season honors, with each team in each of the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls. Three of the newly selected bowl teams last January 1, Georgia in the Orange Bowl, Alabama in the Sugar Bowl and Tulsa in the Sun Bowl.

The lineup for Jan. 1 (two-loss tied records) in the Southeastern is the same as last year. The Sugar Bowl champion, the R.S.F. champion, so great is the enthusiasm that in the Southern League competition between the two fighter squadrons and London headquarters, players rise at 5 a.m. to travel to the training sessions.

This league will be operated in two series, the first to open the second. The second series is scheduled to open Jan. 15. Such a division has been established to accommodate the changes which might be occasioned by movements of squadrons to other areas.

Honor of opening the season victoriously went to a Canadian team from the Royal Canadian Air Force, the Lancaster bomber station 52, Six teams, including one from the Royal Canadian Flying Training School, which was serving in Great Britain. Bill Walker and his bride will be in Canada next week to watch "Fritz" receive a portable radio and a television set for his contribution to the program.

Another serviceman to receive gifts from the masters of the R.C.A.F. is Johnnie Walker, the British Bill Walker of London, 25-year-old fighter pilot who is based in Canada after winning the 1944 world flying championship in Scotland while serving in Great Britain.

They play softball pretty late in the year over here and a Canadian flying boat squadron found a couple of smart battery performers on the field. The two navigators on a Sunderland, and Sgt. G. R. ## College Grid Attendance Off

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—(AP)—United States college football attendance hit the dollar mark for the first time in its first big decline in recent years as every section of the country failed to match 1947's high figures.

A study of the home attendance of the country's leading gridiron schools showed an average decrease of nearly 19 per cent from last year, when the attendance was up four per cent over 1946.

The 419 home games tabulated by The Associated Press showed an attendance of 7,653,580 at games to $337,200 for 1947, or 162 points to

Angling for Control of Lowly Phils

BY JUDSON BAILEY

CHICAGO, Dec. 1—(AP)—Bill Terry, Monday, 20 years ago, was with New York Giants while the National League's board of directors was considering the plight of the derelict Phils and Terry himself said he would have the opportunity of taking over the Philadelphia franchise.

The 42-year-old former first base star, who managed the Giants for a pennant, issued a short statement to announce his resignation as general manager of New York's present sports organization, assuring him a position as assistant last winter.

He had suggested to President Horace Stoneham that the second year of his two-year contract should be terminable if the curtailment of the Giants' minor league operations made it doubtful that he could earn $30,000, which he would be paid if he stayed to the $30,000. He emphasized and Stoneham agreed, the parting friendly.

Nothing concerning his plans was included in Terry's announcement but in discussing his future with newsmen, said that taking over the Phils at Philadelphia was the kind of an opportunity that I would like."

The league's directors conferred for several hours Monday night on the problem of the Phils which have been off the map since 1946. It was understood that Gerald Nugent, club president and attorney, had been approached by Terry to take over the team.

Nugent's directions were that Terry should be given a chance to work out a plan for the team.

One of these was to sell some of the Phils' better players—a privilege which Nugent has been denied since he became approximatedly $10,000 from the league last spring.

No official explanation of the directors' discussion was forthcoming and it was presumed that that problem would be placed before the entire league today.

Monday's day was opened by President Ford Frick.

When it was over Frick was summoned to a conference with Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis and President William Harridge of the American Association.

The resignation of Terry provided the assembly with its first big job. He had been asked to guide the club into 1947 as manager.

When it came, he accepted.

He joined the club as player.

He succeeded John McGraw as manager in 1922 and 1923, and again in 1938 and 1947. At the winter meetings a year ago he achieved a long time ambition to become the successor to the Giants and his place as field leader was taken by Mel Ott.

Play was close during the first two frames, with a walk-off at the end of the first period and a three-run lead for the visitors.

In the third period St. James ran two goals and it took a tight defensive stand by Rangers to prevent further scoring.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(BUP)—As the levelling-off process in college football became increasingly effective each succeeding season during the past 30 years, it became more and more difficult for any team to battle through a campaign with perfect records—to evade sweeps.

During the three decades since the formation of the departing gridiron accent shifted to the smart game featuring speed, skill and execution, rather than the previous concentration on pure brawn.

Manhattan may be regarded, in all sections, as having been virtually known in athletics before it began to appreciate the advertising value of big-time football. It was the realization that they would turn out strong teams if the "sunrise" game was to be played in their cities, or available in their areas, or the managements that could be made available by intelligent advertising.

NEW PIGSKIN POWERS

Hence, clever coaches who could put second-rate men into first-class uniforms on the football field, and keep them there.

The results of big-time football were carried through the land by an ever-increasing band of coaches, and as these seeds were sown, so were the greats who the gridiron never knew. It broke all records for team attendance and general enthusiasm, and the gridiron had blossomed in virtually every state.

It seemed that it was the 1941 season—the last of the Penn State four-game tourney—approximately 150 institutions playing what might be called big-time football. The greatest was the gridiron ever known. It broke all records for team attendance and general enthusiasm, and the gridiron had blossomed in virtually every state.

There were three major causes for this: (1) In addition to the usual losses of young men through military service, most schools were additionally paraded by enlistments; (2) Many coaches left their posts because of the service to condition American fighting men; and (3) Freshmen were permitted to play on the varsity teams, and, despite general policies on all sides, sports writers—despite their groans and moans over the situation—had come to accept the "upset" as the exception.

THE THREE MAIN REASONS

But even these hardy fellows turned to a certain quota of form reversals—utterly unpredictable, and which can best be defined in the way of intercollegiate athletics, as well as in the case of the gridiron.

The eastern athletic directors, and then, and the western, and then, and finally the Army and Navy places for college facilities before they start making their own plane, according to the latest rumors, the services will take over a good many colleges, either completely or in part, as training centers.

Saturday's football and Monday's snow at Frost of Hershey, close scores in Denver, secured four goals and five wins in the first two days to add further fuel to rumors.

Frost's teammate, Wall, Kirkeen came third, and Bob Dill of Buffalo Bisons spent 11 minutes in the snow box last week to go into a clutch with Buck Chicago White Sox, and the question as the league's "dead end kid," who has spent 22 games in the gaps in depleted squads.

With these three factors added to the general lack of gridiron proficiency, guessing the grid winners of 1942 became almost as impossible as predicting the outcome of the three-shell game at a carousal. Comparative scores meant virtually nothing, and the new entries, often informed by green scouts, would make out their green players under varied conditions. The gods laughed muckishly as the campaign progressed and favorites bit the dust, and Saturday in unprecedented numbers.

SEASON OF UPSETS

The fact that Tulsa was the only new team to win its first game with a perfect record is only a mild indication of the turbulence that marks this season, a season that is a stark contrast to the quiet of Saturday when Holy Cross defeated Boston College, 35-12; Navy downed Michigan, 20-13; Army, 14-0; Georgia blanked Georgia Tech, 34-0; Stanford surprised Oregon, 19-13; and Penn State, 14-0.

Saturday's results will be long remembered. But so will many other outcomes on preceding

At Decarbo Still Top Scorer A.H.L.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP)—After HANNON Conn. Sec., Dec. 1.—AP—Although his scoring during the first half of the year was not quite as high as in 1941, Tommie, the "King of the Hill," still leads the league in points scored, and is one assist, above the others.

He is the only one to return to the service to condition American fighting men, and (3) Freshmen were permitted to play on the varsity teams, and, despite general policies on all sides, sports writers—despite their groans and moans over the situation—had come to accept the "upset" as the exception.

Allies to Hit Hardest Blows In Next Year

By J. F. SANDERSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—(CP)—
Canada, the U.S. and Britain have set their 1943 war production quotas so as to bring the maximum pressure on the enemy next year. Oliver Lyttelton, British minister of production, has issued a statement.

The three countries all members of the combined production and resources board have integrated their war production programs in conformity with the strategic plans of the combined chiefs of staff and adopted a vast, common pattern for the vast, common pattern for victory, he said.

LOOK AHEAD

It is, and it is probably—but unlikely—that victory will come in 1943 but the Allied production chiefs are taking no chances—there are no more than 100 days left.

As an illustration of what has been done, Lyttelton said Britain will place as many as 1,000 new planes in the air and the United States on bombers although both countries will continue to make all types of aircraft.

The tank armaments Canada, the U.S. and Britain have standardized and fully integrated. Shipbuilding will be concentrated in the U.S. because "you are not making ships in the United States," you are making tanks," he said.

The minister illustrated the degree of collaboration and integration between the Allied powers by referring to the North African campaigns.

Admiral Giving Scuttle Order Held by Nazis

BARCELONA, Spain, Dec. 1—(AP)—Jean De La Borde, commander in chief of the French fleet, who gave the orders for the mass scuttling at Toulon last Friday, is in the hands of the Germans, French naval sources said last night.

Previously, Admiral De La Borde had been visiting the port of Toulon as part of his tour of the Mediterranean. He was given to have died either on the destroyed battleship Dunkerque or Strasbourg.

The German naval sources said he was interned as a civilian by the Germans at Alx-en-Provence.

DOE TO RETIRE

He was to have retired on Nov. 14. But he was still at his post at the express insistence of Marshal Petain, and he gave the orders to destroy the ships of his own accord on his birthday, they said.

Admiral De La Borde made preparations to scuttle his fleet two months ago, and in recent weeks he inspected personally the setting of explosives and other arrangements aboard every major unit in the port where some 800-old ships were anchored.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, Canadian Labour leader, last night on the by-election in Winnipeg North Centre, told the voters: "We know who our party candidate in that riding, constituted a vote of appreciation for the 10 years of service of our worthiest leader of this party."

Mr. Woodsworth, who died early this year, was member for Winnipeg

Bakery Products To Be Simplified

OTTAWA, Dec. 1—(CP)—The Canadian industry is feeling the strain of heavy demand for its products and simplification of cakes and other bakery products is being urged.

The national council was expected to work with the prices commission to effect a simplification of production. One bakery authority estimated that bread consumption in Canada had increased 25 per cent during the war.

Food manufacturers said it was impossible to keep up with the demand for bread and other cereal products would increase further in Canada.

The national council said the effect of enlarging the demand for cereal products and this will affect all manufacturers for some time, especially in light of Allied nations requirements for products such as flour and glucose.

WATCHED PONY RACES?

"Well, one Sunday we watched the pony races for an hour."

Four big ships were sent to the port in one hour, Klakring replied.

Describing the sinkings, he said:

"First getting ahead and then coming up in the centre of the convoy, we saw a ship go down. We fired at her, but she sank.

"Then, we heard a noise from the ship's crew and saw them swimming in the water. We took them off."

"We were lucky to hit both ships. The other four scattered in all directions when the escort came after us. As we were in the rear of the crew line and look through the periscope to see the two vessels."

"They then chased two of the remaining four into a harbor. They were heavily loaded cargo ships with iron on board."

"We then took the iron and returned to our ship."

"The third sinking was in full view of a Japanese settlement, but I didn't know if it was a Japanese or American."

"We then saw shore batteries but I didn't know if they were Japanese or American."

"We managed to head off one of the two remaining ships and let her have two torpedoes."

"The ship seemed to break up in pieces."

COUNTER-ATTACKED

"Escort ships were dropping depth charges all around us and the mine sweepers were dropping mines."

The convoy was standing to in a large port where there are steel docks.

"The third sinking was in full view of a Japanese settlement, but I didn't know if it was a Japanese or American."

"We then saw shore batteries but I didn't know if they were Japanese or American."

"We managed to head off one of the two remaining ships and let her have two torpedoes."

"The ship seemed to break up in pieces."

10-MILE CHASE

"Our early morning chase after the two remaining ships had a good look at the sinkings."

"One Sunday, the literature mentioned that the Japanese approached shore close enough to watch the horse races at a big city track."

"The Japanese were crowded there, and we could see the horses clearly," he related. "It wasn't just racing, but it was a social affair, but we didn't fire that gun."

"Then we got an 8,000-ton transport ship."

THRILLING TRIP

First R.C.A.F. Alaska Highway Convoy at Destination

Trucks, Supplies, Taken Over Newly-Built Route Without Loss or Mishap

Despite the fact that running ice had carried out some temporary wooden bridges along the route, the R.C.A.F. convoy of about 100 heavily loaded trucks that passed through Edmonton a few weeks ago with equipment for airports along the Alaska highway, safely reached all designated points.

Announcement of the safe arrival of the convoy—first to travel over the great new highway from Edmonton to Whitehorse—was made Tuesday by Wing Commander C.M.G. Con Parnell, R.C.A.F., commanding the R.C.A.F. establishments along the Northwest Staging Route between this city and the Yukon.

The heavily-loaded motor caravan, left headquarters of 4 Air Division at Edmonton on Nov. 28, about one month ago. Many Edmontonians saw the long line of trucks lumbering along city streets late one Sunday night.

After returning here overnight, the caravan started north along the new route.

MEN WERE THRILLED

All officers and men attached to the convoy were unanimous in their opinion that the first military convoy over the highway had been a success. They report the road in excellent condition, though one truck was lost or even damaged, Wing Commander Farrell said.

Many drivers and supply men were moved in to the stations along the route and all supplies of food and heating fuel were cleaned now. The trucks are on their way back now.

After returning here overnight, the caravan started north along the new route.

WING COMMANDER FARRAR TELLS OF HIS JOURNEY

He said that the air stock pile continues to be depleted so it is possible that the convoy will have to stop for supplies during its return.

Some of the temporary wooden bridges across many rivers were carried away by ice.

But ferries were on hand to move the loaded trucks across at each point where the river was crossed and no delay was caused the conveyance of the fabled "hundred tons."

WING COMMANDER FARRAR TELLS OF HIS JOURNEY

He said that there would be no difficulty in keeping the road clear after the first convoy had cleared the equipment all the way up the highway, the officer said.

The officer said: "There needs to be a very impressive sight when he admited it was 'really wild.'

After their condition began to grow worse, it is believed that they were poisoned by ketchup out of an open can, that they had used in their sandwiches. Their condition is reported as not serious.

McCoy Health Service

Everyone has adenosid tissue. It is only when this tissue becomes enlarged, or offers definite evidence of its presence, that health is an abnormal condition has developed.

Enlarged adenosids are chiefly a disease of the mouth, and are often accompanied by enlargement of tonsils and lymph nodes at the sides of the neck. Cataract of the nose is a common symptom.

Due to the location of adenosid tissue, its enlargement may cut off the air supply to the lungs, the nose in such a manner as to force the child to breathe through the mouth. This causes the characteristic pinched look and the mouth remains half-open much of the time. When the breathing may be loud and noisy and be accompanied by snorting sounds. Snoring is a common symptom. The obstructive breathing may occur at night, too.

The absence of the face in change and the patient may take on a vacant look. The child may fail to learn well in school, seemingly because of adenosid tissue which may lead to impairment of hearing and because there is mental dullness due to the lack of oxygen to the brain.

The impaired hearing may result from pressure of the airway on the auditory tube, which are the small tubes connecting the back of the throat and the ear. This may cause pressure. There may be produced sufficient congestion to block these tubes.

Many a child with this overgrowth of adenosid tissue is accused of being stupid, but it is not stupid but rather it is a result of overgrown adenosids which make him seem so.

The continued mouth-breathing encouraged by enlarged adenosids may eventually interfere with the normal development of the bones of the face and of the teeth. The mental deformity may take the form of crossed eyes, and the mouth, which then project beyond the lower lip.

The voice may change, taking a particular kind of "dead" expression which robs it of resonance.

For many years the enlarged mass of adenosid tissue is in the great majority of cases entirely effective. As it becomes more and more prominent, the patient loses his breath more and more through the nose, the patient stops the mouth-breathing. In some cases, the mouth

Nursing Sisters

Civilian Nurses

At a meeting of the Edmonton Unit of the Overseas Nursing Sisters' Association, held at the home of Mrs. C. F. Mrs. Anna A. Orr, Mrs. F. R. Burfield and Mrs. Anderson were appointed to bring in a state of affairs report at the annual meeting to be held Jan. 18 at the home of Mrs. Orr.

Letters were read from soldiers serving overseas, and one from Nursing Sister Alice Blair of Edmonton, now serving in a hospital at Johnsonville, New Zealand.

* Christmas parcels have been sent to three soldiers in the Edmonton Regiment. One was also sent to a widow and one to the mother of a flight sergeant and nursing sister.

The Winston Churchill hat will place in January, and proceeds will go to meet the Red Cross.

A social hour followed, with Mrs. Lees and Miss C. May assisting Mrs. Greenwood to serve refreshments. V

Minute Make-Ups

A bit of damp soap, rubbed on the hands, will give a sleek neckline.

Those stray hairs will stay up if you use large and broad, flat, fine-toothed combs to comb the hair up and out at the center.

Smooth, flat, light shade of foundation cream right down the bridge of your nose.

Don't use rouge close to the nose. Rouge will only serve to highlight the size. If you have a tippled nose, don't change it—it's cute!

66 Canadians To Be Honored At Investiture

OTTAWA, Dec. 1—(CP)—Fifty-eight servicemen and a civilian man, who have shown unusual heroism and devotion to duty at home and abroad, will receive their decorations from the government general at a Government House investiture Thursday.

Service decorations will be presented to relatives of men held in active service.

Bravery in last August's battle of Dieppe will be rewarded when nine armoured regiments and four regiments from the King's representative in Canada at what defence spokesman said they believed to be the first million-dollar investiture ever held in Canada.

TWELVE NAVY MEN

Twelve naval men will receive their awards two posthumously while there will be 45 air force presentations, five of them posthumously, and 10 of the force's presentations will be given to R.A.F. airmen serving overseas.

Airmen who bombed Germany, helped plaster the German warships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau with bombs, and the Dutch coast were among the men who will appear to receive their awards.

Sailors who hunted submarines, one who sailed with Capt. Foote, Fegan or the Jervis Bay when that commando force was captured by his ship and won the Victoria Cross posthumously, are also in the group.

Many of the air force honorees however, have all done good service and efficiency at training stations in Canada and some were fast flying airmen and aircrash members in cases of fire and crash.

The Edge of Darkness

BY WILLIAM WOODS

THIS STORY: Major Buck reveals his identity as an English spy and entrants Gord and Strangher with a code name. Gord is captured by a passing Meekwhite, Captain Keong being execution of the house of Sustus Andromachus. Gord's captors are the adventurous sailors who leave within 48 hours.

CHAPTER XII

THAT night Karl Fischer stood guard at the dock front and quieted the terrors of the night with stars, the boats, and day. The water eddied dark and hallow, the boats were all gone, an incoming tide. He paced slowly back and forth with a rifle over his shoulder, and stamped his feet to keep warm.

He dressed guard duty at night because he was alone, and had to do this. In the towers of the halls of Göttingen, and the life he had created for a world in which he had never been, he thought, "three years ago, who would have dreamed I would be here?" He had been born during the University and being drafted into the army, he had thought he would be serving his country, he still carried a die-cared Aristotle in his pocket. But he had followed a strict routine that made soldiers out of men, a sense of the real world had been lost, the sense of the feelings of nostalgia and the feeling of irony, of the barrenness, and the emptiness of the world of life. And now when he was alone, without even the encouraging voice of his new comrades who had fought with him in Poland and in France, without their courage of the spirit that in those days had lifted him, he felt desolate and empty as never before. "Sleep on, Karen," he thought, "I was a fool to make you angry." Now he knew it was his fault, he had been all the time, and the same feeling came over him that he had had sitting beside her on the grass.

He paced faster along the dock. The gun grew terrible in weight and size. He thought, "I might be the last man to shoot him."

"What do I want to do?" he thought.

"I have to kill you," he said.

"I am not afraid."

He turned and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon he was free once more.

He would go up to the sester, it would be dark when he arrived.

He would cross the Alster, the same time as last. A warm feeling came over him at the thought of the girl he had left standing at the door, he had come to the back and find her working in the garden, she would be angry with him from the other day.

At 4 o'clock the following afternoon he started up the hill. First, on a narrow pathway through leaves, trying to plan what he would say. When the first rise was behind him he saw the bridge across the stream at its center, then up the hill, then the forest.

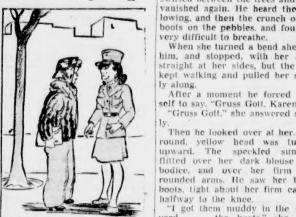

It was dim under the trees.

He had not covered a hundred yards when he heard a noise from the ridge opposite, leading a young calf on a rope, leading a young calf on a rope.

Her yellow skirt was torn, she was running, she was again, and the crush of her body, and the sound of her boots, tight about her firm calves, halfway to the knee.

"I like being a WAAC, but it's funny wearing skirts again!"

Coffee

GREATEST BUSINESS
IN Brazil

The name of Brazil calls up a mental picture of coffee plantation, and many people assume that the main revenue of the country is derived from the country of this little bean. But Dr. Henrique Teixeira de Mattos, historian and writer, points out that this is an erroneous idea, for in 1940, Brazilian coffee was only a 110 million dollar business, while industrial production was a billion, 250 million dollar enterprise. The 1940-41 output of coffee was 100 million bushels.

"The industrial output of Brazil is today twice as large as the total output of coffee," Dr. Teixeira de Mattos said.

"The industrial output of Brazil is though only a few years ago, the opposite was true." Brazil is a modern industrial nation, the only one in South America that is larger than the United States.

Fire Does Damage Local Meat Market

Slight damage was done to the walls and floor at the rear of the meat market, 10024 104A Avenue by fire which broke out at 11 p.m. Monday.

Firemen from halls one and two put out the flames before they were able to reach the place of business in the Bellamy block, where the meat market is located.

An investigation is being made of the store turned in the alarm.

The proprietor of the meat market says he thinks that in the evening he had been throwing out pipes by burning paper and it is believed that the fire originated as a result.
